<td>Procurement Standards</td>
<td>The underlying purposes and policies in the division are: (1) to simplify, clarify, and modernize the law governing procurement in the state; (2) to ensure the fair and equitable treatment of all persons who deal with the procurement system; (3) to provide increased economy in state procurement activities; and (4) to foster effective broad-based competition within the free enterprise system</td>
<td>Develop guidelines, rules, and standards that adhere to the purposes and policies. Provide quarterly training for all procurement officials in the state. The division produces a monthly newsletter to highlight the purposes and policies of the Utah Procurement Code. The division maintains and manages an e-procurement system for state agencies, schools, higher education and local governments throughout the state to use to publish solicitations.</td>
<td>Adopt guidelines, rules, and standards per subject matter according to professional standards. Number of guidelines, forms, and manuals online. Training opportunities, available to procurement professionals in the state.</td>

| State “Best Value” Cooperative Contracts are used for commonly needed goods and services by state agencies, schools, higher education and local governments throughout the state. | The division coordinates the procurement process and subsequently manages approximately 900 state cooperative contracts. The State “Best Value” Cooperative Contracting Program saves public entities between $160 million to $320 million through lower prices achieved by volume discount pricing resulting from bringing together the purchasing power of all public entities in the state. Savings also occurs through reduced personnel costs incurred by public entities. Estimates show that cities, counties, school districts, colleges and universities, and services districts save approximately $21 million per year in reduced personnel costs because the division conducts a single procurement in their behalf, opposed to each public entity in the state conducting thousands of individual separate procurements. These contracts are available on the division’s website and some of the contracts include the capability for electronic ordering. (statecontracts.utah.gov) The division produces a newsletter for Eligible Users of these contracts that provides updates and information about contract availability, how to use them, and status of these contracts. | Currently, the State “Best Value” Cooperative Contracting Program manages approximately 900 state cooperative contracts, representing hundreds of vendors and approximately $2 billion in sales for and on behalf of public entities in Utah. The program also saves vendors much more than the small administrative fee they pay. Vendors on a cooperative contract save money by not having to prepare thousands of bids and proposals in order to contract with all public entities in the state. Instead, vendors prepare one bid or one proposal in response to the single bid or RFP issued by the division. Vendors are also spared the administrative expense associated with managing individual contracts with thousands of separate public entities throughout the state. Vendors on state cooperative contract have the opportunity to significantly increase their sales through the division’s state cooperative contracts. Because thousands of public entities buy from these contracts, vendors on state cooperative contract have access and make sales to public entities that they otherwise would not have. | • % of Voluntary Usage on Statewide “Best Value” Contracts

Agency Specific Procurements

These procurements include standard procurement process solicitations (quotes, invitation for bids, request for proposals, and request for statement of qualifications) and exception for a standard procurement process. Review of formed contracts and amendments.

"The Utah Procurement Code establishes the division as the “Issuing Procurement Unit” for all executive branch procurement units without independent procurement authority. This designation, in addition to numerous other responsibilities, means the division is responsible for reviewing agency solicitations to verify they are in proper form; causes the notices for solicitations to be published; review and negotiate the terms and conditions of contracts."

"• Timely procurement and contract processing and execution services.
• Agency procurements that fulfill the requirements of the agencies.
• Procurements should be error and mistake free.
• All agency procurements should be issued and conducted in a manner that ensures full compliance with the Utah Procurement and Administrative Rules."
